

I Would Run to You

Woman

You're so far away.
Ain't got too much pride.
Well baby I want that too.

I would run to you.

The first time you talked to me.
And when we finally embraced.
I love you. There I said it.
You filled the hall with flower petals.
Baby I might die without you.

I would run to you.
I would run to you.

Love is a speeding comet.
Love is a perfect vision.
Love makes everything serene.

Baby I love you so much
that I would run to you.
Baby I love you so much
that I would run to you.

I (you) would run to you (me).

Man

You're so far away.
Want you back by my side.
And baby I would run, run to you.

I would run to you.

I knew we were meant to be.
Baby, I can't keep this pace.
I think I'm gonna need a medic.
Why does my mouth taste like metal?
Baby, I might die.

I'm not as strong as you.
I to you.

I'm in a pool of my own vomit.
This was such a bad decision.
Give me all of your morphine.

Baby, I know we said we'd run across the country to be together, but I thought we were being symbolic. Why can't we fly, and meet somewhere in the middle?
Like Kansas City? It's the Paris of the Plains...

You would run to me? You would run to me!

I (you) would run to you (me).
