

AN ALIEN VISITS NEW YORK

A funny story. Can you guess the punchline?

One day an alien visited New York. He took a cab to go to speak at the United Nations.

On the way there he saw a huge building. He asked the taxi driver, "Excuse me, but what is that building there?"

"It's the Empire State Building." said the taxi driver. "It took 7 years to build."

The alien smiled and said, "That's nothing. On my planet we could build it in a year." They continued driving through the city.

Suddenly, the alien got excited. He said, "What's that big thing over there?" "Oh, that's the Brooklyn Bridge. It took 3 years to build and many people died building it."

The alien laughed and said, "We could build that in a few days, with no deaths."

The taxi driver rolled his eyes in disbelief. They continued driving through the city.

The alien saw something and got really excited. He asked the man, "What is that big, beautiful statue in the middle of the river?"

The taxi driver smiled to himself. He said, ...

"I don't know. It wasn't there this morning."
