Question Types

English speakers have a profusion of question types available. Here are some of them.

Questions

Question Type	Example
1. Yes/no question (sometimes called a polar question )	Is dinner ready yet?
2. Statement-form question (statement syntax accompanied by rising intonation)	You come from Texas?
3. Negative yes/no question	Shouldn't we send a card?
4. Focused question (with a stressed element)	Was it Nicóle who won the Oscar?
5. Wh-question (which typically uses a wh-question word—e.g., who , what , where —to seek specific information)	What movie is playing downtown?
6. Negative wh-question	Why doesn't he stop barking?
7. Question tag, negative tag	Traffic is heavy at this time of day, isn't it?
8. Question tag, affirmative tag	You didn't go, did you?
9. Alternative question (also called a choice question ; it has a special intonation contour)	Would you rather live in the city or the country?
10. Rhetorical “question”	Haven't we had enough conflict?
11. Exclamatory “question”	Are you kidding!
12. Indirect question	I wonder if we should start.
